

Political Science Day 2020

November 26–27, 2020

Central European University, Vienna

The seventh Political Science Day – the conference of the Austrian Political Science Association (AuPSA) – will take place at Central European University as a cooperation of the Departments of Political Science and Government at the University of Vienna and the Department of Political Science at Central European University.

The conference opens with a public event on Thursday, November 26. Panel sessions are scheduled for Friday, November 27. While the language of the conference is English, contributions in German are also welcome. A topical connection to Austrian politics is not necessary.

Call for Papers

As a forum for discussing current research, the Day of Political Science aims to foster collaboration and exchange among political science research institutions in Austria and between junior and more experienced scholars. Paper submissions should clarify their chosen methodological approaches, present and discuss first results. In order to enhance an exchange of ideas and perspectives, paper presentations should go beyond mere project descriptions.

Papers will be allocated into thematically coherent panels by a program committee composed of representatives of Austrian political science research institutions. We kindly ask you to also to add four keywords to facilitate the paper allocation process. There is no possibility to submit full panels.

Paper submissions should include the following information:

1. Title
2. Presenter
3. Email-contact
4. Abstract (max. 300 words)
5. 4 keywords

Please use the abstract submission template provided on the conference website (<https://www.oegpw.at/oegpw-konferenzen/tag-der-politikwissenschaft-2020>) and send it as a pdf file to tdpowi2020.ipw@univie.ac.at until
